Indianapolis Speedway, May 31.—Arthur Thurman, driver of Thurston Special was killed and M. Mollinaro, mechanician, suffered a fractured skull when the car turned over on the back stretch in the forty-fifth lap of today's Liberty sweepstakes races.

Thurman who was driving his first track race lived in Washington, D. C. The car in which he met his death is a rebuilt Dusenberg. He was driving at approximately ninety miles an hour when his car turned turtle. He was killed instantly. Mollinaro's condition is serious. Little hope is held out for his recovery.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Paced by Lt. Coy, Vincent and Eddie Rickenbacker in a green Packard, car, thirty-ton drivers topped off in the Liberty sweepstakes at eleven a. m. and after one turn of the course the race was on.

Biting sun turned the brick track into a veritable oven, shortening the life of tires. Otherwise the weather was ideal.

Ralph De Palma, already having the record of 89.84 was the favorite of the drivers of American cars. Rene Thomas led the foreign drivers in favor in view of his average of 104.7 miles an hour made in the time trials.

Howdy Wilcox in a Peugeot was leading with Rene Thomas in a Ballot. Albert Guyot, Ballot and Ralph De Palma close bunched. At the end of the first lapse, Thomas led with Earl Cooper, Stutz, and De Palma close following.

Wilcox's time for the first lapse was one minute and 45.65 seconds, an average of 85.18 miles an hour. De Palma jumped to the lead at the end of the second lapse with Andre Boillot, Peugeot, a car's length behind. At the end of the fourth lapse De Palma led.

Cliff Durant in a Chevrolet was the first to withdraw to the pit on account of losing a wheel. At the end of twenty-five miles, Gaston Chevrolet in a Frontenac was first with De Palma in a Packard second and Thomas in a Ballot third.

dress in France

HITS LEAGUE OPPONENTS

Washington, May 31.—President Wilson put the league of nations date on a "brass tack" basis in his Memorial day address in France, according to senators favoring the league.

They said he put the issue squarely up to the country when he said is effect that who opposed the league are fighting for the return of the old order of things and predicted another war if they succeed in their fight against the league.

League opponents however met the president's challenge to them with sharp replies in answering the president's expression that he would see the day when opponents of the league would be ashamed of the opposition as though they had opposed the union of the states.

Indianapolis, May 31.—Thirty-three auto stars domestic and foreign—were to encircle the Indianapolis speedway two hundred times today in the five hundred mile Liberty Sweepstakes. Fifty thousand dollars in prize money is the goal, the winner to receive $20,000.

More than eighty thousand auto fans from every state in the union, here to witness the spectacle crowded hotels of Indianapolis and surrounding town and even the housing facilities of private homes were taxed to accommodate them. Thousands slept in their automobiles on the streets and at the speedway and other hundred awakened to-day in public cars parked in the grounds.

The greatest racing talent in America and Europe was on hand at the brick oval early today. The race was to start at eleven a. m. at the sound of a gun fired by W. S. Ghergert, Detroit, assistant starter. The participants trailing five abreast behind the pace car and gradually gaining speed were to leap ahead on the real grind when E. C. Patterson, Chicago, fired a bomb at the end of the first lap. Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, erstwhile racer and of American fliers on the western front, sat in the referee's box.

Rene Thomas, winner of the 1913 race, headed the team. None of the favorites were receiving great odds, because the talent was considered rather evenly divided, and many of the entries have long lists of victories to their credit.

Confidence of the wagers was placed in the drivers rather than the cars, because the track has comparatively short and flat turns and requires the utmost skill, combined with a disregard of safety. Here De Palma was again favored, in view of his ability as a driver. Jules Goux, victor in the 1913 race, didn't want any confidence misplaced in his car, so he took it apart and examined every piece of metal, every fibre, with a magnifying glass and then suspended the metal parts on a string and struck them with a sounding iron to make sure that they rang true.

The sweepstakes is the sole major event on the international racing calendar for the year and this fact served as a drawing card. The French Grand Prix, which divided honors with Indianapolis in this game prior to the war, will not be revived until next year. The race to-day was expected to replace this sport on the solid foundation of reawakened public interest. The races were Centennial and Victory Celebration of I. O. O. F. Memorable in Annals of Franklin Lodge.

ADDRESS BY GRAND MASTER
H. A. Winterrowd Praises Degree Staff and Extends Invitation to Work at Grand Lodge.

The Centennial and Victory celebration of Franklin Lodge No. 35, I. O. O. F., which closed Thursday night with a public meeting at the lodge hall, was a fitting end-to-a day that will be memorable in the annals of Franklin Lodge. Honored with the presence of the grand master, Harry A. Winterrowd of Indianapolis, Franklin Lodge entertained royally and conferred the Degree of Truth in such a way as to draw the unstinted praise of the grand master and caused him to invite the degree staff to the next grand lodge meeting to perform for the edification of the delegates.

The chief events of the celebration were the reception to Mr. Winterrowd from 3:30 to 5:30, a banquet served by the Rebekahs at 6 p. m. conferring of the Degree of Truth in spectacular form and the public meeting which was addressed by Mr. Winterrowd, Gates Ketchum, local attorney, who was a member of the class, responded to the grand master's address in behalf of the eighteen men who formed the Centennial class. Miles S. Cox presided at the public meeting.

Mr. Winterrowd spoke in a happy vein, opening with the remark that he felt timid about facing a Rushville audience in the light of the eminent orators which this city claimed as its own. He said he felt that when a speech was wanted, such men as J. T. Arbuckle, formerly grand master, or the city's distinguished citizen who was famed as a statesman, should be called upon.

However, Mr. Winterrowd's address needed to be prefaced with no apologies, because in a straightforward fashion he told the story of Odd Fellowship from its inception in 1819 to the present time when it has attained heights its founder never dreamed possible.

The grand master recalled how Thomas F. Wiley, soon after he arrived in Baltimore, advertised for men who had been Odd Fellows in Manchester, England, to join with him in the formation of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He received responses from five men and

RECEIVING WELCOME GIVEN.

(By United Press.)

Plymouth, Eng., May 31.—Completing the great flight over the Atlantic the American sea plane, N. C. 4, swept into the harbor at Plymouth at 2:26 p. m. today.

The huge ship of the skies under direction of Lt. Read left Ferrol Spain on the last leg of the trip, shortly after six o'clock this morning. She spent the night in that city after she was forced by engine trouble to descend in a river, from which port she started for Plymouth early Friday.

An eager watch for the triumph of the Yankee sea plane was maintained here and crowds rushed to vantage points when word came that she had been sighted. A rousing welcome was given.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

Corn, or Fat Back and Corn?

Corn is rich in carbohydrates, low in protein. The protein in corn is unbalanced, being 58 per cent of a protein known as zein, which lacks amino-acids, very necessary for a hog's growth. Corn is low in calcium (a mineral) another necessity for a hog's growth.

Fat Back fed with corn supplies everything corn has not. It reduces your feeding bill as Fat Back is now only $63.75. Corn at $2.0 a bushel is $71.40 per ton. Listen to reason—order today 'twill be higher next month.

BOARD OF REVIEW MEETS ON MONDAY

Powers Increased by New Law, Which Provides Freeholders Shall be of Opposite Parties.

SESSION LIMITED TO 38 DAYS

George Havens and A. M. Taylor Named to Sit With County Auditor, Assessor and Treasurer.

The county board of review, which is composed of the county assessor, the auditor, and two freeholders of opposite political parties appointed by the judge of the circuit court, will meet for the first time Monday, which will mark the beginning of a session of thirty-eight days.

Judge Sparks has announced the appointment of George Havens, republican, and A. M. Taylor, democrat, principal of the Rushville high school and former clerk of the circuit court, to sit with the county officials who are ex-office members.

Formerly the statutes did not provide any distinction as to parties in the appointment of the two freeholders, but the new tax law passed by the last general assembly says they shall be of opposite political parties. The length of the board's session was also extended by the new law. Whereas the session for counties of this size was limited by the old law to twenty days, except every four years when real estate is assessed, the new law provides the board shall not be in session longer than twenty-eight days, except in years when real estate is assessed, as this year, when the limit is thirty-eight days.

It will probably not be possible to appropriate the valuations on all personal property and real estate and improvements in this county this year, before Monday, as all of the township assessors had not yet reported to the county auditor today. The books for Rushville city, Rushville township and Noble and Ripley townships and Carthage corporation were still out today.

The nine townships and Glenwood corporation, which have reported, show a total valuation placed on all classes of property for the purpose of taxation amounts to $34,204,039, as compared with a total valuation in the same divisions last year of $13,942,375. These figures indicate that the taxables of the county will be far more than doubled, and almost tripled. These figures do not take into account the assessments of public utilities and other corporations which are assessed by the state board of tax commissioners.

The duty of the board of review, as set forth in the new law, is to inquire as to the valuation of the various classes of property in the respective townships and divisions of the county, and to make such changes, whether by way of increase

Look for the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right.

A Rushville resident tells you how.

Frank McFarland, 830 W. Tenth St., says: "My kidneys began to get weak and in a short time I was so bad off I could hardly get about. My back was in terrible shape. It ached so, especially at night that I could hardly sleep. Mornings my back was so stiff that when I bent over, I could hardly straighten again. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and highly colored. Another of the family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with such good results, I thought I would try them, so I got a box at Johnson's Drug Store. They helped me right away and I kept on using them until I was cured."

I Owe My Life to PERUNA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to PERUNA. After some of my best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, PERUNA saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my guitar, was most unnatural, and natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect, on my part settled on my lungs. When I sought a late American doctor, but, without avail, until I heard of PERUNA. It cured me so I cannot praise it too highly."

Special trains and chartered cars arrived here on every track last night and early to-day. The largest delegations naturally were from adjoining states, but New York sent a large number and the coastal states of the Pacific were well represented. W. Ballot, breaker of Thomas and owner of the Ballot cars, came over from Paris and brought a few friends and enthusiasts with him.

Ballot has invested $120,000 in his cars and his returns from the race could not possibly be more than $28,500, even if he should take first, second, third and fourth places. The prize money is to be divided as follows: first, $20,000; second, $10,000; third, $5,000; fourth, $3,500; fifth, $3,000; sixth, $2,200; seventh, $1,500; eighth, $1,600; ninth, $1,500; and tenth, $14,000.

The thirty-three drivers were selected by an elimination contest May 27. The starting positions in the race were based on the records of the time trials.

Hopeful But Uncertain.

Mr. Taft, willing as always to accept anything that goes under the name of a league of nations, rushes to the support of the latest production of Mr. Wilson and assures the people that now all is well, every objection to the first covenant has been met by appropriate amendments, and there should be no hesitation on the part of anyone to give it his endorsement. But in the midst of Mr. Taft's eulogy of the league a note of hesitation is seen. He hopes that everything will be all right; that beneficial results will follow the league's adoption; and that the United States will not be burdened with an undue share of the responsibilities under its terms. By Article 10 of the league covenant the United States may be required to send expeditionary forces to interfere in foreign wars under plans to be formulated by the council in each instance. As to that Article Mr. Taft remarks:

"The United States will have a representative on the council, whose vote must approve the plan (or sending troops to the assistance of foreign states) before its presentation. Is it likely, then, that the plan will be unreasonable in proposing an undue share of the league's work to the United States? May we not be sure that what is to be done will be apportioned according to the convenience and natural interest of the members of the league because it must in effect be by mutual agreement?"

It is true that the league covenant provides that such plans, to be carried into effect, must have the unanimous approval of the council. That council consists now of nine members, but may be increased indefinitely. Always, however, the United States will have but one member. Now its vote is one against eight. A few years from now it may be one against thirty or forty. Suppose all of those members of the council voted to go to the aid of an Asiatic, European, or African state whose territorial boundaries appeared to be menaced by another state equally remote from our shore. Despite the fact that the covenant requires unanimous action, what position would the United States be in if it set itself against twenty or thirty or forty other nations?

But Mr. Taft smiles a reassuring smile and borrowing the rubber stamp phrase of the president, bids us still our fears and abide in hope. "May we not be sure that what is to be done" will not unduly inconvenience the United States.

Rebuilding Babel

Albert Mamay of Pittsburgh is president of the Slovak League of America, and he seems to be worried by the activities of the interior department touching the subject of Americanization. A conference held by the department has been attended by representatives of foreign born residents of the United States, and the latter have lifted up their voices in rebuke.

Many of the speakers gave warning that no attempt should be made to force American citizenship upon an alien, for that would give him reason to believe that this country was attempting to submerge minority nationalities. And Mr. Mamay was loud in denouncing any attempt to make foreign born residents or citizens disregard the use of their national tongue.

Before these foreigners tell us not to dare to do this or that they should first find out the details of our program. Before accusing a man of murder it is advisable to produce a corpse as evidence—or at least, some proof that a certain party is missing.

Who is trying to force citizenship on aliens? Who is forbidding foreign born residents to speak their native tongue? And it would be interesting to learn what argument there is against the submergence of a miscellany of nationalities on this soil. Is not the American nationality good enough?

The attempt is obviously to cloud the issue. There is, very properly, a movement to prevent schools from teaching subjects in any language but English; there is no attempt being made to forbid foreigners to speak their own language among themselves. There is no reason why taxpayers should support school teachers to perpetuate any language but our own—unless it forms a subject in the curriculum.

Nobody requests these aliens to come here. Nobody will object if they decide to depart. But, if they wish to partake in our destiny, let them remove the barriers of aloofness, and learn to share our ideals, instincts, and language.

Watch the Little Pimples; They are Nature's Warning

Unsightly and Disfiguring Signals of Bad Blood.

Pimples on the face and other parts of the body are warnings from Nature that your blood is sluggish and impoverished. Sometimes they foretell eczema, boils, blisters, and other skin disorders that burn like flames of fire.

They mean that your blood needs S. S. to purify it and cleanse it of these impure accumulations that can cause unlimited trouble. This remedy is the greatest vegetable blood purifier known, and contains no minerals or chemicals to injure the most delicate skin.

Go to your drug store, and get a bottle of S. S. S. today, get rid of those unsightly, disfiguring pimples, and other skin irritations. It will cleanse your blood thoroughly. For special medical advice free, address Medical Director, 41 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The best way to get rid of an "arguing" man is to agree with him.

The patience required in fishing would do wonders if applied to any kind of useful work.

What a blessing it would be if many people could have their reputations removed as easily as they can their appendixes!

Circumstances alter cases. When the naval airplanes had covered half the distance on their voyage to the Azores, it was all right for them to be half seas over. But it would have been all wrong for the aviators to be so.

The populace of Germany has long been accustomed to hearing the word "verboten". Now the peace conference has provided that the government and aristocracy shall hear it too. It will ring in their ears for a long time.

Almost the only things that have not gone up in price are thrift stamps and war savings stamps. Take note that they are still to be had at the same old figures.

Amusements

Enid Bennett at Princess.

"Happy Though Married", with Enid Bennett in the stellar role is the offering at the Princess theatre tonight.

In this picture, Miss Bennett plays the part of Millicent Lee, a young bride whose hitherto unflattering faith in her husband is severely shaken by the cynical philosophy of a book, "How to Be Happy Though Married," which she finds among his belongings, together with a picture of a beautiful young woman. She later finds this same young woman in her own home and is baffled in all her attempts to secure an explanation because the stranger speaks only Spanish, a language quite unfamiliar to the unsuspecting bride.

Her annoyance is laughable to the spectators who have watched the facts develop from the beginning. Her husband, Stanley Montjoy, and his brother Jim, formerly worked a mine in South America. Jim marries a Spanish girl who had warned them against selling their claim to her scheming uncle. It was the picture of this girl, who had been their benefactor, that Stanley had kept among his keepsakes.

When Jim and his bride arrive unexpectedly, Stanley goes to meet them and in a series of misadventures becomes separated from Jim. He takes the Spanish girl to his home during a temporary absence of Milly and returns to the station to look for Jim. This is how Milly encounters her supposed rival in her own home and some amusing situations develop before the four all get together and the tangle is unraveled.

Story of the North at Mystic.

"Prisoners of the Pines", featuring J. Warren Kerrigan is being shown at the Mystic theatre tonight. This picture deals with the life in the great Canadian Northwest.

Kerrigan is seen as Hillaire Latour, a light hearted, care-free young fellow who has spent his life in the woods as a trapper. But one day he saw a lumberman who had a huge gold watch chain that fascinated the simple minded Hillaire, who forthwith made up his mind that if he ever was to own a chain of similar value, he would have to forsake his familiar occupation.

Janesville Two-Row Cultivator

WHEN you sit comfortably on the easy riding Janeville Two-Row, and see every plant in every row getting exactly the cultivation you want it to have, you think what a blessing it is that you have a machine to do all that work. The old timers would think so if they could see you getting over the field so rapidly, and doing the work better than they ever did.

The Janeville Floating Arches solve the problem. They are hung by pendulums from the top bar and swing from side to side with a pendulum movement. You widen or narrow the gangs in the row with your feet. Or lock them at any width desired.

The shovels naturally follow the rows, but you can shift them to either side so quickly and so easily that you can hoe every hill without stopping the team.

Your own weight on the seat bars acts as a lever to turn the wheels slightly up hill—this big advantage takes the down-hill creep out of side-hill plowing. The entire machine is light, compact, flexible—no oiling needed except in wheel boxes.

Cultivate with a Janeville Two-Row—and you will forget that there ever was hard work in cultivation.

Lady Overcomes Use
Of Morphine

Troubled about 10 years with what the doctors called gall stones, often I thought I would die before the doctor could get here, when he would give me a hypodermic of morphine and advise an operation. A neighbor told me about May's Wonderful Remedy for stomach trouble, and since taking the first dose two years ago I have not had an attack nor needed a hypodermic. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and eases the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Rushville high school seniors were entertained in fine fashion at the annual junior party in the gymnasium of the Graham Annex Thursday evening. Although it was strictly a "Dated" affair, it was all "on the junior". The decorations were all of Dutch design and everything else was Dutch but the speech.

The whole program prepared by the juniors centered about a playlet "A Secret of the School Room", which was written by Miss Norma Headlee. The scene was a school room in 1935 and the pupils were supposed to be children of the seniors. In this way the juniors found opportunity to have some fun at the expense of those who are about to be graduated. Miss Janet Dean played a number of selections on the violin, with Mrs. D. H. Dean at the piano, and Miss Conte of the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music, a soprano, sang three solos. Solo dancing by Miss Margaret Sumner of Indianapolis, to the accompaniment of the Victrola, was also very much appreciated.

The border of dutch figures which extended completely around the gymnasium, on the railing of the running track, formed very attractive decorations, and the bleachers were shielded from view by tree boughs and other greenery. The electric globes were covered with blue and of the boys who were wearing the khaki, some of whom were already on the battle line showing the same spirit of sacrifice as their fathers did in the sixties. They were possessed of that same spirit which has characterized American manhood from Lexington to this day.

He declared that when we think of Memorial Day, we need to think of the supreme crisis in the sixties and that the manhood of America met it, and that the principles which they fought for have been made world-wide. The speaker recalled that as the flowers were placed on the graves in East Hill yesterday morning, a similar event was taking place across the water where the graves of the American dead were being decorated.

"We see the growth of our ideas and influence, which has expanded, and is world wide," he continued. "The fruits of the victory recently entered into by us would not have been possible had it not been for the victory of the boys in blue. Our boys in the late war fought for principles to preserve our national life. These things mean democracy, freedom and brotherhood, which are won only at great sacrifice and wonderful price. We have been making the sacrifice and paying the price."

The Rev. Mr. Bunnell enumerated the wars in which the United States had participated and pointed out how they had all been fought for a principle.

"They all show," he declared, that American manhood has always been capable of meeting a national crisis and I feel that the young men of the future will be equally able to solve the problems that will confront them. The same spirit that characterized our boys in the sixties also characterized the boys who met a foreign foe. There has come to us a beautiful heritage and a great burden to carry forward these principles and perpetuate them."

Illustrating how in every war

Americans have entered a conflict in support of a great principle, the speaker recalled the battle cries of the armies in several wars.

"It seems to me," he continued, "there never were men to whom more honor should be given than to these men who offered their lives when we were threatened with a divided country. What would have been the condition in this country if we had had two nations here when threatened by Germany? We would not have had the unity of spirit and the strength and power to meet a foreign enemy had it not been for the sacrifices of these men."

Although a civil struggle is the most bitter and intense, the speaker showed how the spirit of enmity had passed, the old times had gone and the spirit of brotherhood had descended on the whole nation.

"I never think of these letters G. A. R., and what they mean, but that I hope, when you come to that final hour on earth, may also be a members of the Grand Army of the Redeemed, for I want you to remember that as you sacrificed that the nation might be saved, Christ gave his life that you might be saved."

TRIES COME-BACK.

London, May 31—Jim Driscoll, former world's featherweight champion, having satisfied himself that there is still a chance to regain the title by his victory over Pedler Palkmer several months ago, will take the acid test tonight. The exchanges will meet Francis Rossi, one of Britain's best featherweights in a twenty-round bout at Mountain Ash Pavilion here. Fifteen thousand people are expected to witness Driscoll's come-back attempt.

Thousands of Cases of Dyspepsia—

BUT ONLY ONE PEPSINCO

PEPSINCO is the only indigestion remedy that we know—and we know lots of so called dyspepsia cures—that will almost infallibly relieve an attack of indigestion, food distress or gas. We could almost make claims that would appear impossible, so seldom does this PEPSINCO fail.

But why not consider the recommendation of thousands of people who have used PEPSINCO, on the basis of their belief in it. Try it yourself: we are sure that the suggestion will appeal to you—you who suffer with indigestion or stomach faults—try PEPSINCO to-day.

Yes, indeed, the new Silk Shirts are here, also the right kinds of athletic underwear. Straw hats—all the new shapes and braids.

Many children are behind their class because of bad, unclean teeth.

Get mother to have your dentist examine your teeth and treat them if necessary.

Then ask her to get you a tube of SENRECO, so that you can keep your teeth clean. Senreco Tooth Paste will do more to keep teeth clean and gums healthy than anything, excepting your dentist. Ask your dentist.

He knows SENRECO.
